IDEA

The work first: one hero render running off the top and outer edge, then three arch details from the same project, like a competition board header. The name sits below in monumental capitals.

IMAGES

arched-retreat-01 at 199 mm (230 ppi). Crops from -07, -05 and -02: each is a 600 × 400 px region at 57 mm (266 ppi).

CHARACTER

Most visual of the three. Around 60% of the page is image.

IDEA

The cover as a drawing sheet: grid paper with 5 mm and 25 mm modules, axis references, the name set on the grid, and a title block carrying the portfolio details.

DRAWING

A pointed-arch elevation taken from the arched retreat's openings, labelled as a design development diagram. It has named dimensions only, no invented sizes.

CHARACTER

The most technical of the three. It reads as an architect's document before the book is even opened.

IDEA

The approved "Aperture", made richer. The window appears twice, side by side: as an elevation study drawn on the sand wall and as the render, sharing one base datum. Below them sits a strip of three colours sampled from the renders.

IMAGE

Vertical crop of arched-retreat-07 (pixels 270–720) at 38 mm (301 ppi).

CHARACTER

Drawing next to render says "interior architect" at a glance, and keeps the cover you already chose.

PROFILE

Imagination.

With the knowledge to make it real.

Interior design and interior architecture — from the first concept to the final handover.

Design. Technical development. Execution.

ALAA MASRI

INTERIOR DESIGNER · INTERIOR ARCHITECT

I'm Alaa Masri, a Lebanese interior designer and interior architect based in Riyadh. Over 15 years of practice across the Gulf and Lebanon have shaped my approach to space.

I work from the first concept through to final handover, connecting design, materials and craftsmanship with the precision that execution demands.

My work spans luxury residential, hospitality, commercial and retail interiors — coordinating clients, consultants, contractors, workshops, factories and site teams so that the design holds from drawing to site.

CONCEPT TO HANDOVER — HOW A PROJECT IS CARRIED

Steps condensed from the professional profile: concept and design development, technical drawings, material selection, BOQ preparation and pricing, supplier and contractor coordination, execution on site.

LEFT

Statement, portrait and a "selected work" column of three thumbnails, so the profile shows the work straight away.

RIGHT

First-person profile verbatim, "15+", six fact cells and a new seven-step concept-to-handover chain taken from your CV responsibilities.

DENSITY

Both pages are now filled to the margins. The one open field, above the portrait, is deliberate.

LEFT

Media wall render at 190 mm, the key elements (from the image captions), six colours sampled from the renders (hex shown), four design-language cells, and two enlarged strips: a walnut panel with lit reveal, and the lit shelf over the stone ledge.

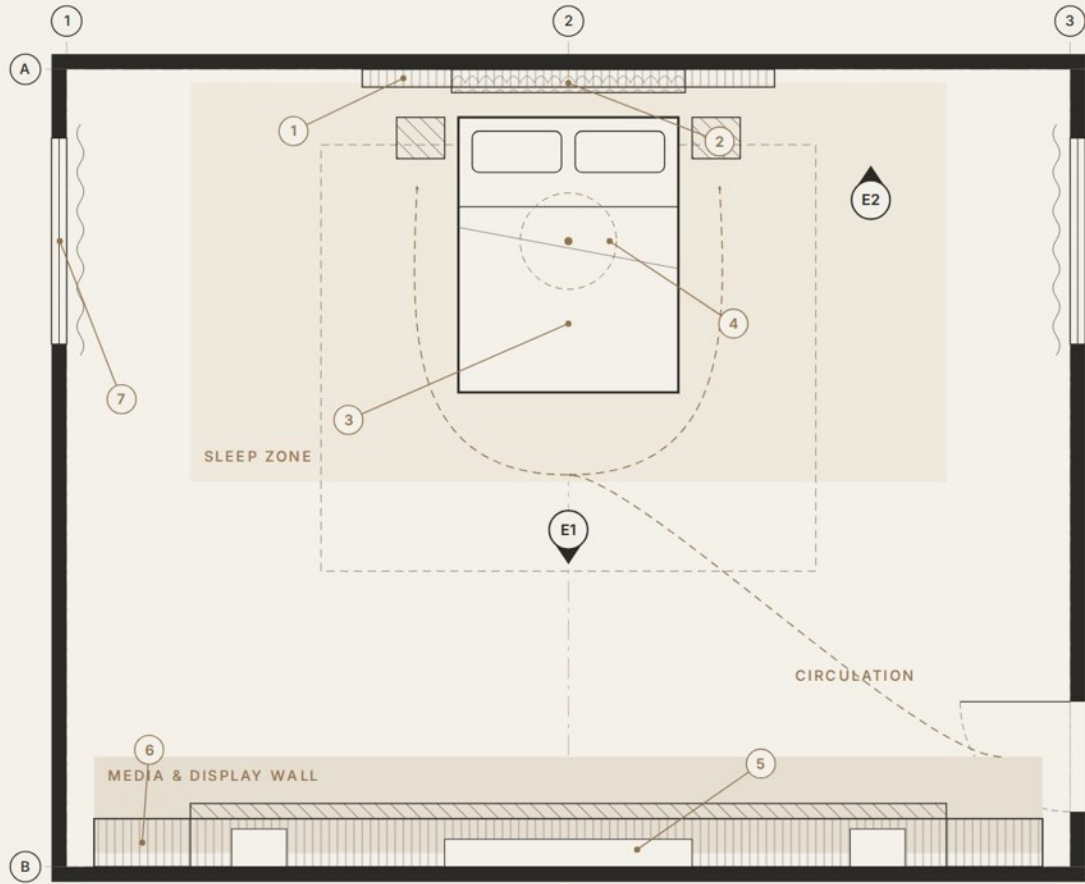

RIGHT

The joinery render with a tall shelving crop beside it. A sand board carries six texture swatches cut from the renders, the headboard crop, the bedside detail and finish codes.

HONESTY

Swatches are cropped pixels of your renders; colours are the renders' median values as lit. There are no supplier or product names.

REPRESENTATIVE FORMATS

The small drawings, tables and checklists on this spread were prepared for this portfolio to show working method. Project renders are Alaa Masri's visualisations.

STRUCTURE

The seven disciplines (website copy, verbatim), each paired with a small study: palette and materials, a section fragment, a joinery detail, a BOQ extract, a coordination diagram, a QA checklist, and a render-to-detail progression.

LABELS

Each study is tagged by what it is. The BOQ lines are generic sample quantities for format only, tied to no project.

NO ICONS, NO CARDS

Every visual is architectural content, not decoration.

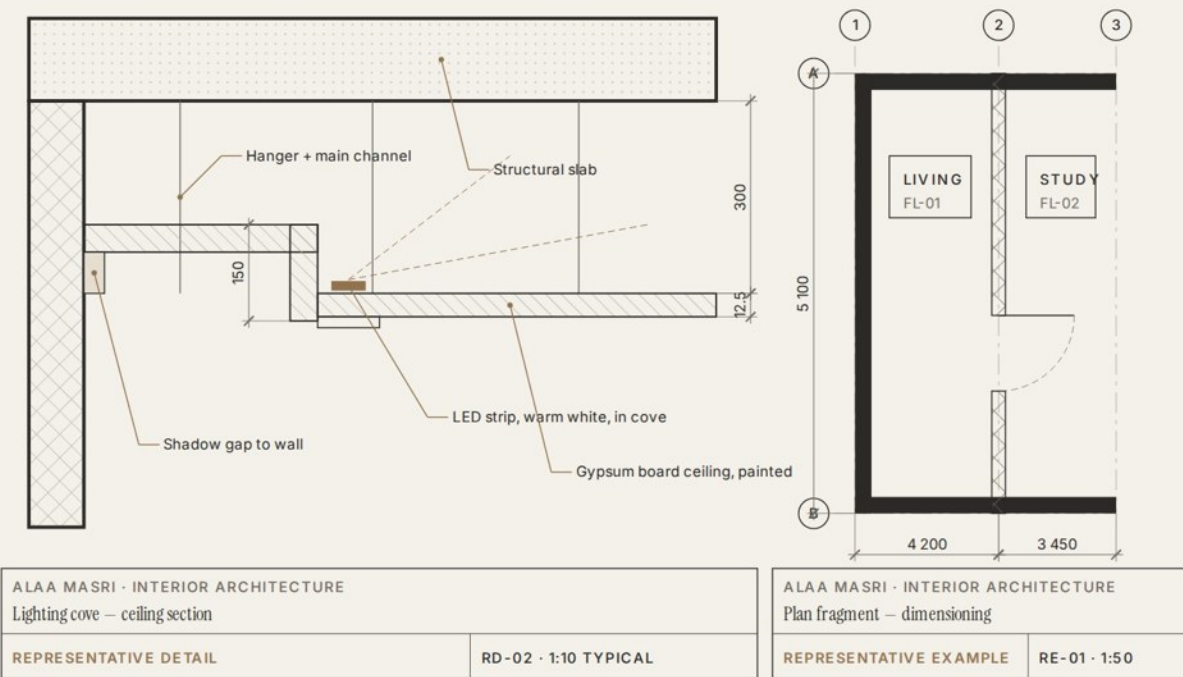

TECHNICAL CAPABILITY

REPRESENTATIVE DRAWING SET

Drawn to be built.

Managing interior projects end to end — concept and design development, technical drawings, material selection, BOQ preparation, pricing, supplier and contractor coordination, and final execution on site.

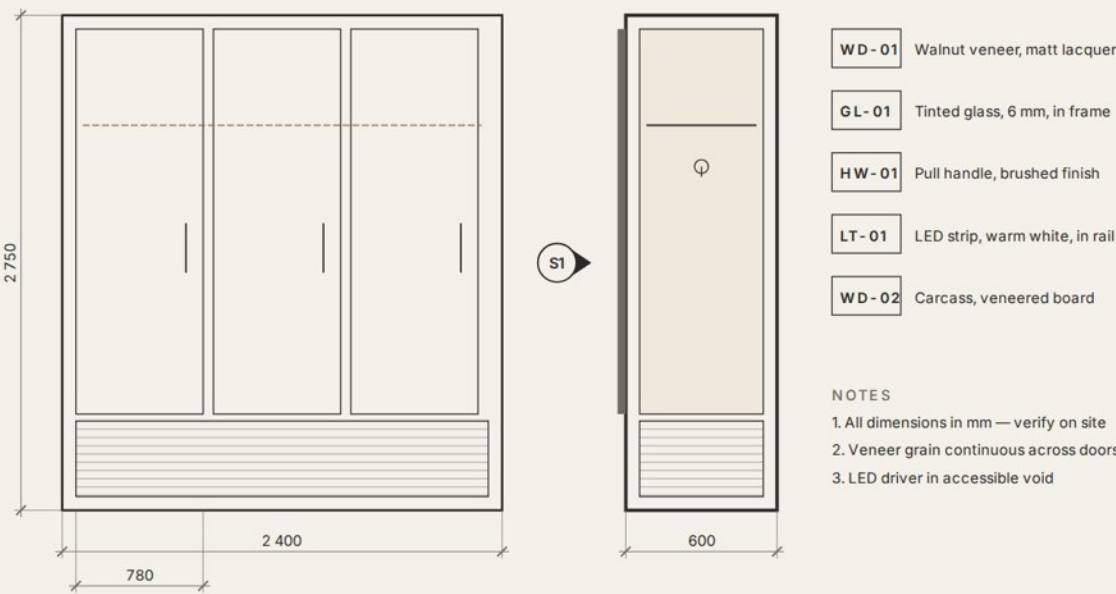

REPRESENTATIVE EXAMPLES
The drawings, schedules and tables on this spread were prepared for this portfolio to show drawing standards and method. They are not construction documents of a specific project; real project documents will be added when supplied.
